These guidelines are intended to further an atmosphere of sportsmanship and competitiveness as well as to develop a safe and competitive environment for our students.

Matches

Matches shall be three (3) minutes in length. For ages 12 and above, (5) minute matches may be used depending on the number of competitors. The tournament director may increase the length of matches depending on the skill-level and age of the competitors. In no case shall the match exceed five (5) minutes. The time shall run continuously unless "time out" is called by the head judge. The time shall be kept by the official Timer or his designee ("Timer"). The "Timer" shall call out the time left when there are 10 seconds left in the match. Further, the timer shall notify the head judge when the match has ended by calling out "Time!" or by throwing a bean bag, or similar item into the ring. The head judge shall then check the scores and announce the winner.

In the event of Osaekomi (Position of Control) the timer shall begin the first 10 second count upon the direction of the official managing the match. The official shall wave his hand over the contestants, palm down, and shout out "count." The official may simply shout "count" without the hand signal, or use the hand signal without the shout. In any case, the timer shall begin the countdown at that point. At 10 seconds, the timer shall shout out "10 seconds" loud enough for the official to hear. Judges shall award one point to the superior contestant.

The count continues toward 20 seconds. If Osaekomi is maintained for a total of 20 seconds, the time shall shout out "20 seconds" at which point, the superior contestant shall be awarded 2 additional points. The official shall determine if there is a likelihood of a submission. If there is, the match can continue. If not, the match shall be stopped. The competitors are brought to a standing position and the match shall continue until time runs out.

In the event of a tie, the match will continue in a three (3) minute overtime sessions. In the event the match is still tied after the first overtime session, sessions will continue until a point is scored or deducted (Sudden Death.) The winner shall then be declared. Rest periods between rounds shall be for 5 minutes.

Standard bracketing formats shall apply. Competitors shall be distinguished by wearing color strips attached to the rear belt.

Formal Match Procedures

The referee will call the competitors to the center of the ring. The competitors shall enter the ring, bow to the head official then bow to each other. They shall then face each other in a ready position and wait for the command to begin. The head official shall then give the command to "Start", or "Hajime." At the same time, he shall signal with his right hand in downward motion for the match to begin. The match begins and the Timer begins the count-down.

The term "Ma Te" or "Stop!" shall be used to stop action on the mat.

Juniors up to nine (9) years of age may start their match from the referee's position. This decision is left to the tournament director. They shall be in the grasps of each other. After every "break" they shall once again begin from the referee's position. Barring any break, the two competitors shall continue the match even if they are not in the referee's position.

In all other age groups, the competitors shall start the match apart.

Two or Three floor judges should be equipped with mechanical or digital counters to accumulate points. If there are only two floor judges, the referee may be the third judge with mechanical counters.

The referee (head judge/official) may call out the points whenever a point is scored. In this instant, the head judge will call out the value of the point(s) and to who earned the point. The match does not stop except in example # 1 below.

Example 1: Referee may call out "Pin" and Judges will click or add the points in favor of the competitor. Referee then restarts match. Time is stopped during this instance.

Example 2: Referee calls a point for 10 second ground control. The judges should award the point to the designated competitor while the match continues.

At the end of the match, the head judge will check with the judges and the judges table to determine the winner. He then awards the victory.

Procedure: The Referee shall proceed to the Timer's Table with the Judges. The totals accumulated by the counters shall be added up and counted for each contestant. The winner will be the contestant who accumulated the most point total.

The Referee then brings the competitors to the center of the ring and announces the winner.

Point Hoarding –

- A superior competitor is deemed to be point hoarding when moving from position to position in Superior Positions or “Osaekomi”, he goes for one - 10 second point position to the next 10 second point position, without attempting a pin at 20 seconds.
- At the third instance of this practice (the competitor will have earned 3 points), whether intentional or not, the official shall stop the match, bring the competitors to a standing position and shall continue the match if there is still time on the clock.
- A superior competitor is deemed to be point hoarding when moving from position to position such as side mount to Full Mount, back and forth to gain the points for the full mount.
- At the third instance of this, the official will stop the match. The Superior Competitor will only be awarded 3 points, for the first three Superior Positions. The official shall stop the match, bring the competitors to a standing position and shall continue the match if there is still time on the clock.
- In instances for this Point Hoarding rule, no time will run off the clock. The Timer shall stop the countdown and will resume only when the match resumes.

Restarting Matches

In every instance when a match is restarted, the referee shall immediately give the command to restart the match so long as both competitors are on their feet. Since the time continues to “run”, this shall not be used as a stalling tactic for one competitor to catch his/her breath, or re-align his/her uniform. The restart is immediate regardless the position of the competitors. It is the competitor’s responsibility to be ready and prepared for action.

Example: If a pin is called and the competitors are near the border of the ring, the referee shall start the match immediately upon the competitors coming to a standing position, so long as both competitors are now within the bounds of the match area. The referee shall NOT bring the competitors back to the center of the ring to restart the match.
